Bibliographical Notes.

IN the Preface of the Catalogue of Part I of the Robert Hoe Library it was said, "The sale will be an event of unprecedented importance." Such it proved to be, and the highest expectations were surpassed. Slightly more than 3,500 titles—about one-fourth of the entire collection—were sold for nearly one million dollars, or more than four times the largest amount ever received for an entire library in all the history of book-sales by auction; and nearly all prices exceeded previous records.

The sale, in the new Anderson Galleries, beginning on April 24, 1911, and concluding on the afternoon of May 5th, was attended by collectors of world-wide fame and by representative buyers from England, France, Germany, and the United States. The interest of the general public was aroused to an extraordinary degree by the importance of the collection, the large attendance, the eagerness of the buyers, and the elaborate reports, many of them illustrated, in the daily newspapers of the principal American cities. In methods and environment, new standards were established by the Anderson Company at the sale, and the books and manuscripts which, coming from a hundred cities, had gone, one by one, through half a century, into Mr. Hoe's wonderful collection, were distributed in less than a month to collectors in all parts of the world.

The authenticity of the Hoe books and manuscripts cannot be emphasized too strongly. Many of them came into his collection through the hands of dealers of long experience and established reputation who gave their personal guarantees to Mr. Hoe. Many others came from the great libraries which, during his long and active career as a collector, were sold here and abroad; and as these contained the treasures of still older collections, the greatest books of centuries thus came into his possession, each with a well-authenticated history of its own. And of Mr. Hoe himself it must be said that, with his long experience, his pride in his collection, his ability to command the services of eminent authorities, and his acknowledged taste and wonderful knowledge of the bibliographical points of books, he would have been quick to detect and resent an imposition.

The Second Part of the Hoe Library contains almost as many important, interesting and rare items as the first. The indices at the end of this catalogue give a chronological list of American history and literature, a list of Incunabula, and an analysis of the remarkable bindings; and these will be of great service to those who are in search of the rarest items. The following notes may be of service also:

MANUSCRIPTS: Many very remarkable examples of Missals and Horæ were sold in Part I of the Library, and another large selection is now offered, representing various styles, schools, and periods and illustrating the art of manuscript illumination from the Thirteenth Century. Most of them are in immaculate condition. On a Latin manuscript of the second part of the Fifteenth Century the arms of King Matthias Corvinus of Hungary are painted, and it is probable that the manuscript was executed for him. An Italian manuscript of the latter part of the same century was executed for Pasquale Diaz Garlon, Castellano of Napoli. A manuscript of 446 leaves with 131 fine ornamental initials painted in colors, is a beautiful and interesting manuscript of the Vulgate, and was executed in the Thirteenth Century. A translation of Boccaccio written on vellum in 1409 will attract the attention of the experts, for illuminated manuscripts of a secular character are very rare.

A French manuscript of 136 leaves written in the Fifteenth Century, with four large miniatures, is very unusual also. A book of Hours, containing 187 leaves, is one of the most beautiful manuscripts executed in the North-east of France; a Spanish inscription shows that it had been examined by the Inquisition. A magnificent manuscript of great value, in Gothic characters on vellum, is embellished with thirty-nine miniatures. Another very beautiful manuscript is that executed in the Fifteenth Century for the second wife of Jean II, Duc de Bourbon; the large miniatures recall the best work of Jean Fouquet, and one of them, representing the Virgin crowned as a queen and attended by angels, administering the sacrament to St. Avia, is of extraordinary interest. A manuscript of 238 leaves; another with paintings remarkable for architectural details, vigorous drawings, and beauty of color; a third of 171 leaves, executed for Cornelis Crosinek, lieutenant-forester of Holland, superb in every detail; two manuscripts by Nicolas Jarry; two Arabic manuscripts on native glazed paper, and a Persian manuscript on 418 leaves embellished with full-page miniature paintings are among the great treasures of this collection. The famous Touraine Missal will command the closest attention of collectors. It is a superb Missal; and the miniatures, remarkable for correctness of design, execution, and coloring, must be numbered among the best productions of the School of Touraine.

BINDINGS: Mr. Hoe's appreciation of fine bindings is well known, and many hundred bindings of artistic and historical importance and of wonderful association interest are found in his collection. Nearly two hundred appear in this sale. Many of these are catalogued under the general heading of Bindings and the others appear under authors. Nearly all the famous binders of the world are represented, as shown by the index at the end of the catalogue, and usually by many examples of their finest work.

No doubt the most wonderful binding in this sale is that on L'Imitation de Jesus Christ printed in Paris in 1690 (No. 245). The great artist in leather who executed it was Monnier, who took such pride in this exhibition of his skill that he signed the binding in no less than six places.

In this section of the Library are rare volumes bearing the arms of Queen Marie Antoinette, Queen Marie de Medicis, Queen Henriette Maria, and the Queen of Louis XV, and any one of these volumes would add distinction to the finest library. Several volumes bear the arms of Madame de Pompadour, another was presented to Anna of Austria, a third is supposed to have been bound for Marie Marguerite de Valois de Saint-Remy. One volume was beautifully bound for Henry III of France, another for Louis XIII and his Queen, and a third for Louis XV. One book bears the arms of Napoleon I, another the arms of Pope Clement XI, a third the arms of Pope Benedict XIII, and on the fourth is the monogram of Cardinal Emanuel of Savoy. Other volumes were bound for Louis XIII, Louis XIV, Francis I, Charles I of England, Henry IV of France, and Henry III. A book of great interest is the Aristotle printed in Paris in 1554 and bound in England for Robert Dudley, Earl of Leicester, the favorite of Queen Elizabeth. The Aldine Theophrastus printed in Venice in 1497 came from the library in the Château of Anet of Henry II and Diana de Poitiers, and is a wonderfully fine example. Munster's La Cosmographie Universelle, printed in 1556, is in contemporary French binding, and the gilt medallions of Henry II of France commemorate his wars. Several Bibles, old and rare, are in bindings made 300 and 350 years ago. A particularly desirable item is No. 188, in a contemporary English binding embroidered in gold and silver.

INCUNABULA: In early printed books the Hoe Library is remarkably rich. In the first Hoe sale the Gutenberg Bible on vellum, the first book printed from movable type, sold for $50,000, or more than twice the highest price ever paid up to that time for a single book. In this sale a copy is offered of the same Bible on paper, perfect and genuine throughout. The Hoe copy is one of the few with portions printed in red. It is handsomely bound by Mercier.

Another book of extraordinary interest is "Communcycaeyon Bytwene God and Man," printed in London by Wynken de Worde about 1499. This copy seems to be utterly unknown to bibliographers. Still another book that will attract the attention of the collectors is the first edition of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, printed at Westminster by William Caxton about 1477, being the fourth or fifth book printed in England. There is a record of eleven copies, of which only two, one in the British Museum and the other at Merton College, Oxford, are perfect. Undoubtedly the Hoe copy is the best that will ever be offered for sale. A Caxton of very great importance is the Polycricon, which Caxton himself translated. Mr. Hoe's copy is absolutely perfect, except that three blank leaves are missing. The only two copies comparable with it are in public libraries, and will never come on the market. The Pliny, printed on vellum by Jenson at Venice in 1476, is another remarkable book and is in immaculate condition. The Rerum Venetarum of Sabellicus, printed at Venice in 1487 with the Jenson types, is not only one of the four known copies, but is the copy that was presented to Doge Marco Barbarigo, whose arms, painted in gold and colors, appear on the first page.

Special attention should be called to the Chronicle of England, printed at St. Albans in 1483. It is an excessively rare book, only about eight copies being known, all but one imperfect. The defect in the Hoe copy has been remedied, so far as possible, by the insertion of twenty-seven leaves in facsimile; there are 260 genuine leaves, and it is extremely doubtful if a better copy will ever be offered. Lack of space prevents further reference to the great number of early printed books.

EARLY ENGLISH LITERATURE: This department was Mr. Hoe's great specialty and his Library contained a large number of exceedingly rare volumes. The Venus and Adonis now offered is an extraordinary item; it is in the original vellum binding, and the only other copy known is in the British Museum. The only perfect copy of Queen Elizabeth's Prayer Book, London 1569, is in Lambeth Palace and for many years was supposed to be unique. The Hoe copy is in remarkable condition. Too much cannot be said in praise of the copy of Milton's Paradise Lost, also in this sale. It is not only the exceedingly rare first issue of the first edition with the title-page in its first state, but it is in the original binding, the condition of which is remarkably fine. The first English edition of Froissart's Chronicles was printed in London in 1525 and the Hoe copy is one of the finest in existence. Fisher's Treatise, printed by Wynken de Worde in 1508, the first edition, is exceedingly rare, and the second edition, which is equally rare, is likewise in fine condition. Of Lydgate's translation of the history of Troy, printed by Pynson in London in 1513, one authority has said that no perfect copy was known. The Hoe copy, however, is genuine, fresh, and perfect throughout. Another remarkable book is Middleton's political play, A Game at Chesse, printed in 1625; only two copies are known, and as one of these is in the University Library at Cambridge the present opportunity to purchase is probably the last that collectors will ever have.

Mr. Hoe's collection of Walton was unusually fine. The catalogue contains no less than forty-nine titles of books by Isaac Walton and Walton and Cotton. Mr. Hoe's copies of the first five editions of the Angler are tall and attractive. Spenser's Complaints, London 1591, seems to be one of two copies. The Faerie Queen, 1595-1596, is a very important copy, embracing the second edition of the first part and the first edition of the second, and bound with it is the first edition of Colin Clout. This was John Evelyn's copy and contains on the fly-leaf seventeen lines in his autograph. Reference should be made also to Arnold's Chronicle, printed at Antwerp about 1503, a perfect copy of the first edition. Many very important Shakespeare items were in the first sale and others are offered now.

LATER ENGLISH LITERATURE: Many exceedingly rare and interesting items will be found in this department. Goldsmith's Good Natured Man, Deserted Village, and Haunch of Venison, and his comedy, She Stoops to Conquer, are in this sale and all of them are first editions. An uncut first edition of Goldsmith's Enquiry contains an autograph letter from the author to his publisher. Goldsmith's Citizen and his Life of Nash are first editions also. The Traveler is the second issue of the first edition; another copy, printed in the same year but with variations, is a presentation copy "with the author's best esteem." The Hoe copy of the Vicar of Wakefield is of extraordinary interest, for it is not only the earliest issue of the rare first edition and in the original calf but is a presentation copy with Goldsmith's inscription. The choicest Pope item is an uncut copy of the very rare first issue of the Dunciad. A copy of the second issue is followed in this sale by a copy of the second edition, and by eleven other early editions. One of these is a presentation copy with Pope's inscription. The most interesting Sterne item is the large paper copy of the first edition of the Sentimental Journey. Mr. Hoe thought there were only three copies of the first edition of Gulliver's Travels on large paper; his own copy contains the portrait in the first state. William Blake's Songs of Innocence, colored by his own hand, is the copy he gave to his physician.

AMERICANA: Even the most successful collectors of books relating to early America will find extraordinary items in this sale, some of which are not likely to be offered again. The first edition of the complete account of the four voyages of Vespuccius is one of the four known copies. The Hoe copy is the only one ever owned by an American, and the other copies have permanent resting places in national libraries abroad. Three other Vespuccius items appear in this sale. Smith's History of Virginia is on large paper and is an early issue of the first edition. Mr. Hoe believed it to be the dedication copy to the Duchess of Richmond. The maps and portraits are remarkably fine. The True Travels by Smith will be sold also; it is a first edition and a large copy. The Christopher Columbus Letter of 1493 is the first dated edition. De Bry's Grand Voyages fill thirteen folio volumes and all the parts are first editions. The French version of the first part of the voyages, exceedingly rare, is in brilliant and perfect condition. Mr. Hoe's copy of Horsmanden's Negro Plot is the rare first edition, uncut.

The Hoe copy of the laws, statutes, and ordinances of the City of New York is one of four copies, the other three being in public libraries, and it is of exceptional interest. Morton's New England Memorial, printed in 1669, was John Evelyn's copy and later the Lefferts copy. Morton's New England Canaan is another very rare book. This sale will also include three King Philip's War Narratives, all uncut and undoubtedly the finest copies in existence. Another extraordinary item is Filson's Kentucky. It is the only copy with the Philadelphia map that has ever been offered for sale by auction, and three lines in the autograph of Daniel Boone add to its interest and value. The Cedulario of Puga is the first printed collection of Mexican laws. The Chronica of Amandus contains three epistles from Mexico, one of which ends with a sentence in Mexican, so that this volume, printed in 1534, gives the first appearance of an American language in print. A complete set of the tracts of Las Casas, all first editions, form another great nugget in this library. The first edition of Lederer's Discoveries, Beste's Discourse, Bullock's Virginia, Byfield's New England, and Gray's Virginia are rare and highly important books. Van Der Donck's quarto, published in 1650, is the most important work on the history of New Netherlands up to that time; this is the Brinley copy. Five years later the Beschryvinge Van Nieuw Nederlant was printed, containing the second engraved view of New York.

FRENCH BOOKS constitute a very large part of the Hoe Library and the demand for such books as he selected—mainly classics in handsome bindings—is rapidly increasing in this country and abroad. Les Troys Premiers Livres de l'Historie de Diodore Sicilien, 1535, printed on vellum, is extremely rare; the Hoe copy once belonged to the grand-uncle of Henry IV; it contains a wood-cut which is regarded as Tory's masterpiece. Princesses de Jade et de Jadis is a unique copy, comprising fifty-eight original water colors by Lorant-Heilbroun. Les Amours Pastorales de Daphnis et Chloé, Paris 1731, is probably the only copy on vellum. The same work published sixteen years later contains twenty-eight plates, engraved after Philippe d'Orleans, and is one of the twelve copies on vellum. Le Romant de la Rose by Lorris and Meung, printed at Lyons in 1503, contains 140 woodcuts, and is a remarkable example of early book-making. An unauthorized edition of Gargantua, printed in 1542, is one of the rarest books from Dolet's press. Many editions of La Fontaine's Fables and other works are offered, some of them first editions, including the famous edition called "Des Fermiers Généraux." Another noteworthy production is the Lancelot, printed at Paris in 1533. Six Dorat titles are catalogued; the illustrations are noteworthy, and one item is superbly bound by Michel. Coquillart's Sensuyent les Droitz Nouveaux was printed about 1515 and is of great rarity.

Les Triumpes by Bouchet, La Gverre des Masles by Cholières, Tableau des Riches by Colonna, Cronique et Hystoire by Commines, Polyeuete Martyr by Corneille, Héraclius by the same author, Œuvres by Gessner (one of two copies on vellum), Les Œuvres by Marot, the first edition of Meliadus de Leonnoys, and Verard's edition of Tristan are books to which the attention of discriminating collectors should be directed. Froissart's Chronicles, printed at Paris 1495-1500, three volumes folio on vellum, contain 165 finely painted and illuminated miniatures, and another extraordinary work is Monstrelet's Chronicles (1503) with bindings which are the best specimens of Lortie's skill.

MISCELLANEOUS: Collectors of manuscripts, especially those of American authors, will find in this sale some Irving material of great interest. His note book on his European tour, in 1804, is probably the earliest Irving manuscript ever offered for sale by auction; and his note book for 1805 is apparently unpublished. Three of Irving's manuscript note books written for his "Mahomet" and four written on his Western tour are also offered. Fifteen sheets of musical score, containing Thomas Moore's "Legendary Ballads," set to music by Bishop, with the text in Moore's handwriting, form a most attractive item. A manuscript of greater importance is Walter Scott's Life of Jonathan Swift. Many Grolier Club publications and many extra illustrated books, some of them very fine, are found in this section of the Hoe Library, and it also contains a small but very interesting collection of books on laces and embroidery, several of very early date.

* FROM THE LIBRARY OF HENRY II AND DIANA DE POICTIERS. OLIVE MOROCCO, GILT GAUFFRED EDGES, THE SIDES BEAUTIFULLY ORNAMENTED WITH THE ROYAL ARMS, INTERLACED D H D, INTERLACED CRESCENT, BOW AND FLEURS-DE-LYS, WITH CLASPS. In a red morocco slip case.

A wonderfully fine example of the famous library of Anet, with the back entirely sound, which is a circumstance of extraordinary rarity in volumes of this kind. The ornamental design by the binder is contained within a broad rectangular framework on the sides, which is formed by a number of fillets, gilt and blind tooled. The pattern of the inner panel is a gilt geometrical interlacement. Above the upper border the title is stamped in gold, outside and beneath it are the crescent and the D.H.D. In the central space are the royal arms, collar and crowned H.H. within an ornamental frame composed of four united bows, around which are scattered the crescent and other devices. At the top of the central compartment the letter A. in gold, which may mean Anet. It cannot be the Greek numeral "one," because this volume is complete in itself, and if considered in relation to the set of Aristotle, published by Aldus, could only be considered as volume V, not volume I. On the front edge the letter H stands in the midst of the arabesque gauffering; on the top edge is the D and H monogram, and on the bottom the interlaced crescents.

[MOGUNTIAE, JO. GUTENBERG et JO. FUST, 1450-55]

* EDITIO PRINCEPS OF THE BIBLE. Whereas all copies vary
 mencement of the Epistle of St. Jerome, the prologue to Genesis, and the first book of Genesis printed in red, it being presumed that on account of the difficulty encountered in printing in a second color, this undertaking was discontinued. In the British Museum copy these spaces were left blank. The other chapter headings throughout are written in red, thus preserving the symmetry of the pages. THE PRESENT COPY IS ABSOLUTELY
 PERFECT AND GENUINE THROUGHOUT, AND MEASURES 15 X 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ INCHES.

At the end of each volume there is a Latin inscription dated March 7, 1471, and authenticated by a notary, showing that this Bible belonged to a certain John Vlieghe, priest and beneficiary of the Cathedral of Utrecht, and that he left it to the monastery called ad Castrum, near Amersford. The Hoe catalogue states that this copy was formerly in the library of Lord Ashburnham, and that it was sold a year before his death.
 Hain, 3031; Pellechet, 2265; Hessels, p. 170, No. 6; Proctor, 56.

Twenty-seven copies on paper (four containing Vol. I only, and one only Vol. II) are known to exist. By calculations based on the proportionate use made of two of the four kinds of paper used for the book, Dr. Schwenke suggests that the total number of paper copies printed may have been 180.

657. BIBLIA LATINA. *Gothic character. double col-

Explicit Tractatus Galfridi Chaucer de Penitencia ut dicitur pro fabula Pectoris.

“Prologues.” Inserted is the portrait of Chaucer (“The Progenie of Geoffrey Chaucer”) from the edition of 1598.

This edition of 1561 was evidently a trade issue, separate titles being printed for each bookseller who took copies. The earliest issues have woodcuts to “The Prologues,” the preliminary leaves numbering fifteen. The second issue had only ten preliminary leaves, owing to the omission of the woodcuts. The title of this copy is within an architectural border with a representation of the King sitting in Parliament at the top, at the bottom, within the ornamental border, is a small shield with the device of Richard Grafton. Other issues had a title mainly occupied by a large armorial woodcut;—these have no bookseller’s device.

The portrait of Chaucer is sometimes found in this edition, but has in such cases been inserted from the edition of 1598, where it is noted on the title as being one of the additions to that “Impression.”

* FIRST EDITION OF THE COLLECTION OF PRIVATE PRAYERS, COMMONLY KNOWN AS "QUEEN ELIZABETH'S PRAYER BOOK." London: Wm. Middleton, undated, and Rd. Pynson, 1525

* THE FIRST ENGLISH TRANSLATION OF FROISSART AND ONE OF THE FINEST COPIES IN EXISTENCE. There appear to have been

three editions, one by Pynson, 1523-1525, another with his name as printer, but supposed to be a pirated edition, and the other by W. Middleton. Copies are frequently found made up from the three editions. Utterson, in his reprint of Pynson's edition, says "Middleton's impression is line for line with Pynson's." In the title of Volume I., Henry VIII. is styled "Of the church of Englande and also of Irelande in earth the supreme heade." As Henry did not assume this title until 1530, it is clear that the date of the first volume is at least five years later than that of the second. Middleton did not begin to print until about ten years after Pynson's death.

Collation: Vol. 1. Title with two rows of printer's ornaments below it and surrounded by a border of pieces the initial letter "H" being a woodcut with scroll design, A1 (verso woodcut of the royal arms, supported by a griffin and a greyhound, with a portecullis on each side, and surmounted by two angels holding a scroll containing a Latin inscription and surrounding a rose). "¶ The preface of Johan Bourchyer knight lorde Berners, translatur of this present cronycle," A2. Table, A3-A6 and B1-B4 (verso blank). Text in CCCCLI chapters, a-v, aa-vv, and aaa-ooo4 ending on the recto with the colophon, in sixes. ooo4 verso blank. Folios i-cccxxii.

Vol. II. Title in a broad woodcut border ascribed to Holbein (see letters H, H. in center of the left side), A1 (verso the large woodcut of the royal arms, already described). Preface, a2. Table, A2 verso-a8 (verso blank). Text in CCXLIX, chapters, A-U6, AA-UU6, AAA-OOO8 in sixes, ending on the recto with the colophon. On the verso is Pynson's device No. 7, a full-page woodcut of a coat of arms, said by Herbert to be Pynson's. Folios I-CCC.xix.

THE FOLLOWING FOUR POINTS MAKE THIS COPY ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING AND DESIRABLE IN EXISTENCE:—(I) It is a presentation copy from the author. (II) It is in the original calf, gilt borders and backs, with double lettering pieces; whereas it is usually unlettered and without tooling. Probably one of a few copies specially bound for the author for presentation. (III) Its unusual size; the copy measuring slightly over 6 $\frac{3}{8}$  x 4 inches. These "Hours," published by Maillard, who was the successor to Tory, contain the same woodcuts that appeared in "Heures antiques" of 1527, with the exception of the borders, which were here suppressed. This edition was not noticed by Bernard, Brunet and other Bibliographers, AND THIS IS APPARENTLY THE ONLY COPY KNOWN. 142 x 92 mm.

Each of the Horn Books has the alphabet and the Lord's Prayer in Black Letter, but they are not alike in type or setting. 1758. IRVING (WASHINGTON). A VERY EARLY MANUSCRIPT JOURNAL OF WASHINGTON IRVING. From July 1, 1804, to Jan. 23, 1805, lettered "1805" on the outside cover and called "Journal of a Tour thro France, Italy, Sicily." 115 closely written 4to pages, old vellum, with ties. There are two pencil drawings on front end-paper and fly-leaf, and Irving's memorandum "Acheté en Bordeaux Juillet 1804. Prix 3 liv." another "Ship Matilda 27th Dec'r opposite Corsica."

* ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT IRVING MANUSCRIPTS, AND PROBABLY THE EARLIEST EVER OFFERED FOR SALE BY AUCTION. Washington Irving came of age in April, 1804, and owing to the delicate state of his health his brothers determined to send him abroad. The above Journal recounts his experiences from his arrival in Bordeaux on July 4, thence to Toulouse, Nismes, Avignon, Marseilles, Nice, and Genoa (from which place he sailed for Messina the day before Christmas, 1804), the sea-voyage and his experiences in quarantine, ending with January 23, 1805. It was evidently written as a basis for letters home, the first entry beginning "My dear Brother" (William Irving), and contains full descriptions of scenery, people, and adventures, including an attack by pirates. He describes the long imprisonment in quarantine before Messina and his occupations, such as studying Italian, reading books on Sicily, and sailing over the harbor in the yawl belonging to the vessel. While much of this Journal has been used by Pierre M. Irving in his "Life and Letters of Washington Irving," there are numerous interesting incidents which have not been published there, serving to illustrate Irving's life and the development of his character.

1759. IRVING (WASHINGTON). A VERY EARLY MANUSCRIPT NOTE BOOK OF WASHINGTON IRVING when travelling in Europe at the age of 21 in 1805. 93 pages, small 4to, labelled by Irving "1805" on the front cover. HIS AUTOGRAPH INSIDE THE FRONT COVER and bound in vellum wrappers, with flap and tie. On the first page Irving has written "Notes of a Tour in Europe in 1804-5. Vol. 4th. containing Route from Zurich to Paris & from Paris to London, from May 17th to Oct. 8th, 1805." Another note on the same page states that he purchased the book at Zurich for 1½ livres.

* AN EARLY JOURNAL TO WHICH PIERRE IRVING EVIDENTLY DID NOT HAVE ACCESS IN PREPARING HIS "Life and Letters of Washington Irving"; and APPARENTLY UNPUBLISHED. The account of the week's trip from Zurich to Paris, May 19 to 24th, is very full. The Journal next commences with September 22nd, 1805, describes the trip to London, where he landed October 8th, 1805, closing with an account of an annoying delay, at Gravesend. HIS PENCILLED COMMENTS OF HIS FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF ENGLAND cover four pages and will be found to form not the least interesting part of the Journal:

"I had expected to be delighted on finding myself in England, that my heart would expand, my feelings all fly out to hail my kinsmen. Quite otherwise—except during my ride from Gravesend to London. I have found my heart has closed up—all the social feeling has retired within me. I look about me with distrust. If I wish to know the direction of a street I first examine the physiognomy of my neighbor, and when I have selected I make my inquiry with caution like a wary person standing on my guard for fear of insult. In no other country have I felt anything like this. I feel like one of our savages when visiting a strange tribe. He courts their friendship though he eyes them with distrust; he holds out the calumet of peace but grasps his tomahawk in the other hand ready to defend himself, etc."

1760. IRVING (WASHINGTON). THREE OF IRVING'S MANUSCRIPT NOTE BOOKS, written about 1830, FOR "Mahomet and his Successors," about 80 pages each, 12mo, bound in limp morocco, labelled by Irving on one volume "Arabs No. 1," in ink; on two others are pasted labels of white paper on which Irving has written: "Mem. Concerning the Arabs, No. 1" and "Notes on the Arabs, No. 2." The third volume is unlabelled. A MS. INDEX IN IRVING'S HAND IS IN ONE VOLUME.

* With the exception of a few blank leaves here and there, and traces of the removal of a few others, the 250 pages are covered with notes in ink in Irving's fine hand, chiefly concerning the Arabs; gathered in 1830 while the author was engaged on the "Life and Successors of Mahomet" (published in 1849 and 1850), prepared while at Madrid and intended as introductory to other volumes which he had in contemplation connected with the Moorish domination of Spain. Many of these notes are extracts from Sale's "Koran," and the works of d'Herbelot.

A few pencilled notes of a more personal nature are written on the first and last leaves, and in one he records the FINAL ARRANGEMENTS with MURRAY FOR THE SALE OF "The Voyages of Columbus": "Aug. 3 (1830) settled with Murray about Volume of Voyages—500 gs (Guineas) at 6, 9 & 12 ms (months)." He also describes seeing Louis Philippe take the oath as King of France, and on August 18 (1830) the marriage of his nephew when General Lafayette gave away the bride. On two preliminary pages of one volume is found one of his finest pieces of descriptive writing beginning

"There is a clock in almost every room, and in the night I can hear them repeating the hours to one another like weary watchmen. There is a small silver-toned clock in a Lady's Boudoir that tongues it so quickly and sweetly, etc."

1761. IRVING (WASHINGTON). FOUR OF IRVING'S MANUSCRIPT NOTE BOOKS FOR "Tour on the Prairies," 55 pages in all, 12mo, marbled wrappers, labelled by Irving "Far West 1, 2, 3" and "Notes on the Indians" on the fourth. Two have labels of white paper pasted on, with "Notes concerning the Far West 1833" in Irving's hand.

* "Tour on the Prairies" was published in London in 1835 and a month later in America. The above notes relate almost entirely to the ethnology, geography, botany and zoology of the Far West. There is a pencilled list of books, including the works of Pike, Long and Carver. The "Tour" comprised Irving's expedition from Fort Gibson, Ark., to the Pawnee Hunting Grounds in October, 1832.

* A VERY IMPORTANT MANUSCRIPT. This work is a treatise of chivalry and strategics (and contains several curious historical details relating to the reigns of Charles V and Charles VI). It has also a codex of international law. The last two parts are especially interesting as a study of the military law during the great wars of the XIV and XV centuries. Verard published the work in 1488, under the title of L'Art de chevalerie selon Vegetius, but so mutilated and filled with errors that all the bibliographers ascribed the work to Jean de Meung. Caxton translated and printed the work by order of King Henry VII, in 1489, under its real title and author's name. The miniatures represent: 1. Christine de Pisan kneeling before the wise lady Minerva; 2. Minerva teaching strategics to men in armor; 3. A judicial combat within a walled enclosure (champ clos); 4. hundreds of large and small ornamental initials illuminated in gold and colors. 4to, crimson velvet, repoussé silver clasps (one missing), gilt edges. Sæc. XV

* A BEAUTIFUL MANUSCRIPT, in which the miniatures are much above the average. Among them may be mentioned: Christ delivering Souls from Hell (the most original of the paintings in design); the Virgin weaving with the infant Christ standing at her knee; The Martyrdom of St. Catherine; St. Mary Magdalene; St. Susanna at the feet of Christ, etc.

The manuscript was in all probability executed in the North-East of France, and may be termed one of the best specimens of the period from that part. The Calendar has Eligius, Donatianus, Nicasius in red. In the litany we find Quintin and Nicasius, martyrs; Amandus, confessor; Gertrude, Hildegunda, virgins. On the inside of the front cover is a Spanish inscription dated Nov. 21, 1572, showing that the book had been examined by the Inquisition and might be read.

2458. HORLE BEATE MARLE VIRGINIS ad usum Romanum cum calendario. MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM OF THE 15TH CENTURY WRITTEN IN GOTHIC CHARACTERS, WITH THE CALENDAR IN GOLD, BLUE AND RED, probably executed at Tours or in the neighborhood. 170 leaves (9 $\frac{1}{2}$  x 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  inches). Embellished with 39 FINE LARGE MINIATURES, nearly all divided into compartments, the pages of the Calendar surrounded by large and beautiful miniature borders containing from one to three compartments, in which are represented the occupations of the months, the signs of the zodiac, religious scenes, amusements and sports of the time [including the game of golf], etc.; all the pages of the text are surrounded by elaborate borders in black tracery and burnished gold, with corner sprays of flowers in blue, green, dull red, and gold "camaïeu," each border containing 3 small miniatures, which are repeated on the verso of the leaf, but reversed, so as to be seen against the light. 4to, old blue velvet, gilt edges, in a case. Sæc. XV

* A MAGNIFICENT MANUSCRIPT OF GREAT VALUE. The Calendar marks Maurus, Gregory, George, Yvo, Eloy (twice), Louis IX, Giles, Denis, Martin (twice), Clement, Katherine, Thomas à Becket, in gold; Aubert, Donatianus, Aubin, Gertrude, Ernoul (twice), Robert, Vandrille, Lyeffart, Eraele, Albanus, Theobald, Quintin, Bertin, Piatius, Fertecolus, Gatianus, Romanus, Columbanus in blue; Genovefa, Metranus, Veranus, Honorina, Fuscian, Leger, Albinus, Gobert, Gengulphus, Bontoulph, Silvanus, Edmund, Nicasius, in red. The Litany invokes Dionysius, martyr; Britins, Mathurinus, Remigius, Jovine, confessors; Radegunda, Genovefa, Florentia, Columba, virgins.

Among the large miniatures, besides those of usual occurrence, are the following: the Last Judgment; the martyrdom of St. Peter, the Conversion and Martyrdom of St. Paul; the Martyrdom of St. John the Baptist; the Martyrdom of St. Laurence; St. Eloy restoring a horse's leg; the temptation of

(See No. 2458.)

St. Anthony; the martyrdom of St. Apollonia, etc. The small miniatures in the borders, in all 874, may be divided into three groups, according to their subjects: (1) Sacred scenes, containing representations from the Old and New Testament; (2) Grotesques and Obscœna; (3) Scenes from celebrated romances or fabliaux of the Middle Ages, possibly from the collection of fables and moralities known as Ysopet.

The beautiful miniatures, which ornament the manuscript are the work of at least two artists, the more skilful of the two having executed the greater number. However, both belong to the school of Touraine, and it is probable that the manuscript was executed at Tours or in the neighborhood, as in the Calendar the name of St. Martin, bishop and patron of Tours, occurs twice written in gold, and in the black ground of the large miniature representing St. Martin (fol. 161 v.) is the Church of St. Martin-de-Tours, exactly as it was in the 15th century, with its three Roman towers. From the collection of H. Bordes.

* A VERY GOOD EXAMPLE OF FRENCH MINIATURE WORK of the period. In the Calendar we find St. Martial in red, and in the Litany St. Martial among the Apostles, indicating Limoges, Poitiers or Rouen, as the probable place of origin of the manuscript.

* A MANUSCRIPT of good execution, with strong Flemish element. The names of St. Nicasius in red and of the SS. Maurice, Auldegonde, Aubin, Urban, Ernoul, Piere, Romacle, Fremin d'Amiens, and Severin in black in the Calendar indicate the North-East of France as the probable provenance.

2461. HORÆ BEATÆ MARÆ VIRGINIS secundum usum Romanum, cum calendario. MS. OF THE 15TH CENTURY WRITTEN ON VELLUM IN NEAT AND WELL-FORMED GOTHIC CHARACTERS, IN RED AND BLACK; BY A FLEMISH SCRIBE. 182 leaves ( $3\frac{1}{4} \times 2\frac{3}{8}$  inches). ORNAMENTED WITH 37 BORDERS of flowers, fruits, birds, and insects delicately painted on a dull gold ground, 10 LARGE MINIATURES of the usual subjects, and 12 small ones in the lower borders of the calendar representing the occupations of the months; also numerous large and small ornamental initials in a gray camaïeu on a gold ground, and in gold on a red ground. 16mo, dark brown levant morocco, blind-tooled borders on the sides, with a repoussé silver medalion representing the Virgin and Child inlaid on the centre of the upper cover; doublure of light brown morocco, gilt borders, gilt edges, by The Club Bindery; in a case. Sæc. XV

2462. HORÆ BEATÆ MARÆ VIRGINIS ad usum Bisuntinum, cum Calendario. MS. OF THE 15TH CENTURY WRITTEN ON VELLUM IN GOTHIC CHARACTERS IN BLACK AND RED, WITH THE CALENDAR IN GOLD, BLUE, AND RED; EXECUTED IN THE EAST OF FRANCE. 185 leaves ( $9 \times 6\frac{1}{4}$  inches). ORNAMENTED WITH 16 LARGE MINIATURES, 6 of which are on a diapered ground in blue, red and gold; each page embellished with lateral borders of the ivy leaf design in black and gold, with scrolls and flowers in colors. The miniatures are surrounded by full-page borders more elaborately executed, introducing flowers, scrolls, birds, vases and grotesques, elegantly illuminated in gold and colors. 4to, brown levant morocco, blind tooled semis of fleurs-de-lys and shells on the sides, gilt edges, by Lortie. Sæc. XV

* The miniatures, which are all of the usual subjects, show some German influence. The provenance is probably Besançon. In the Calendar St. Stephen is in gold, and St. Ferreolus (Sept. 17) in blue. The Litanies invoke SS. Ferreolus, Ferrutius, Antidius, Ireneus (Lyon), Gengulphus (Toul), Desiderius (Langres), Mammes (Langres), martyrs; SS. Desideratus, Nicetius, Prothadius, Anatolius, Donatus, Claudius, confessors. On the first blank leaf are painted the arms of a bishop.

Manuscript Hours for the use of the Church of Besançon are of rare occurrence.

2463. HORÆ BEATÆ MARÆ VIRGINIS ad usum Romanum cum calendario. MS. OF THE 15TH CENTURY, WRITTEN ON VELLUM IN LETTRES BÂTARDES, IN RED AND BLACK; EXECUTED IN THE NORTH-EAST OF FRANCE. 164 leaves ( $8 \times 5\frac{3}{8}$  inches). ORNAMENTED WITH 13 LARGE MINIATURES of the usual occurrence, each surrounded by ivy leaf borders in black and gold, with flowers and scrolls in brilliant colors; besides hundreds of illuminated initials. 2464. HORÆ BEATÆ MARIE VIRGINIS ad usum Romanum, cum Calendario. MS. OF THE SECOND PART OF THE 15TH CENTURY, ON CHOICE VELLUM; WRITTEN IN SMALL LETTRES BÂTARDES, IN BLACK AND BLUE, AND PROBABLY EXECUTED IN ANJOU. 141 leaves ( $6\frac{3}{8} \times 4\frac{5}{8}$  inches). EMBELLISHED WITH 13 VERY FINE LARGE MINIATURES and 135 lateral borders of flowers, scrolls, birds, insects, human figures, chimeras, &c.; elegantly painted in gold and brilliant colors; those of the calendar having 24 EXCEEDINGLY GOOD SMALL MINIATURES, representing the occupations of the months, and the signs of the zodiac. 8vo, red velvet over old oak boards, gilt edges, in a silk bag. Sac. XV

* A VERY BEAUTIFUL MANUSCRIPT EXECUTED FOR CATHERINE D'ARMAGNAC, second wife of Jean II, Duc de Bourbon, called "le Bon" [1484-86]. The large miniatures were probably painted by a different artist from the one who executed the small ones in the Calendar. They are specimens of the best French illuminating of the 15th century, and recall the work of Jean Fouquet. Their subjects are the usual ones occurring in all books of Hours, with the exception of the last, representing the Virgin, crowned as a queen and attended by angels, administering the sacrament to St. Avia. On 9 leaves there are the interlaced initials of Jean and Katherine, and leaf 27 has a painted stag and hind, the emblems of the house of Bourbon. These emblems are repeated in a different form in the other borders.

The Calendar has St. Aldric, Bishop of Mans; St. Julian, first Bishop of Mans; St. Aubin, Bishop of Angers; St. Tiburce, Bishop of Mans; St. Liboire, Bishop of Mans; St. Pavace, Bishop of Mans; St. Maurilius, Bishop of Angers (in blue); St. René, Bishop of Angers (in blue), all of which would indicate Maine or Anjou as the place where the manuscript was written.

Two leaves, which probably contained miniatures, are missing.

2465. HORÆ BEATÆ MARIE VIRGINIS secundum consuetudinem Romana. MANUSCRIPT OF THE SECOND PART OF THE XVTH CENTURY, ON VELLUM, WRITTEN IN GOTHIC CHARACTERS OF SILVER AND GOLD, ON VELLUM, TINTED BLACK, AND EXECUTED IN THE NORTH-EAST OF FRANCE. 121 leaves ( $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$  inches). With 14 FINE LARGE MINIATURES painted in gold, silver and colors, 134 borders composed of ornamental leaves, flowers, birds, animals, grotesques and chimeras, all in dull gold, on a dark blue ground, and numerous large and small illuminated initials. 8vo, pigskin, the sides blind-tooled in panels in the manner of the 15th century French bindings, silver clasps with interlaced Ys, gilt edges, by Trautz-Bauzonnet; in a pigskin case. Sac. XV

bertus (17 Sept.), in silver: the Litanies have Nicasius and Quintinus martyrs, Gertrude virgin. All these point to the North-East of France. The miniatures, which are well executed and above the average, have a very strong Flemish influence, and are probably the work of a Flemish artist. From the Yemeniz and Firmin-Didot collections.

2466. HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS ad usum Parisiensem, cum Calendario. MANUSCRIPT OF THE SECOND PART OF THE 15TH CENTURY, WRITTEN IN GOTHIC CHARACTERS IN BLACK AND BLUE ON VELLUM with the calendar in gold, blue and red. Probably executed in the North-East of France. 169 leaves ( $6\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{5}{8}$  inches). Each page accompanied by elegant lateral borders composed of flowers, fruits, birds, insects, etc., in gold and colors, and numerous illuminated initials. ORNAMENTED WITH 9 LARGE MINIATURES, of the usual occurrence, painted in brilliant colors and heightened with gold. 8vo, red levant morocco, the sides tooled and gilt in compartments, with mosaic ornaments in dark green and citron morocco, and pointillé tooling, in the manner of Le Gascon, gilt back, doublure of brown morocco, gilt tooled dentelle borders, silk linings, gilt edges, by Capé. In a morocco case. Sæc. XV

* A GOOD SPECIMEN OF THE FRENCH ART OF THE PERIOD and probably executed for one of the members of the Royal family of France, as the fleur-de-lys is introduced in several of the borders. The Calendar has the following Saints in gold: Geneviève, Vincent, Gregoire, Nicolas, Martin, Louis, Leu and Gilles, Denis, Marcel, Katherine, etc. The manuscript is not quite perfect.

2467. HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS secundum Usum Romanum, Horæ S. Crucis, Horæ de Sancto Spiritu, Officium de Passione Domini, Missa B. M. V., etc., cum Calendario. FLEMISH MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM OF THE YEAR 1524, WRITTEN IN ELEGANT GOTHIC CHARACTERS, IN RED AND BLACK, EXECUTED IN THE LOW COUNTRIES. 303 leaves ( $8\frac{3}{8} \times 6$  inches). Embellished with 27 BEAUTIFUL LARGE MINIATURES; 21 fine miniature borders in the Calendar, representing the occupations, amusements and sports of the months, all very interesting for the Dutch manners and costumes of the period; 71 pretty borders, including those surrounding the large miniatures, composed of flowers, fruits, birds, insects, jewels, ornamental scrolls, figures, etc., painted in various colors and gold "camaiëu" on a blue, red, or green ground; also numerous elegant large and small floriated initials in dull gold on a rose, blue or green ground. 4to, old dark brown morocco, gilt panelled sides, an

* AN EXQUISITE AND MAGNIFICENT MANUSCRIPT. The miniatures are certainly the work of two of the best Flemish artists of the period, who seem to have been inspired by the famous "Breviarium Grimani" and probably were members of the well-known Horebout Family. Three or four of the miniatures, being especially fine, may be ascribed to Gerard Horebout himself.

The large miniatures represent: Christ's entry into Jerusalem, the Last Supper, Salome receiving from the executioner the head of John the Baptist, St. Francis of Assisi receiving the stigmata, David and Goliath, etc.

The Calendar has Aldegunda, Amandus, Amsbert, Gertrude, Walburga, Servatius, Amelberga, Bertinus, Gereon, Willibrord, in black; Nicasius, in red.

2468. HORÆ BEATÆ MARLÆ VIRGINIS ad usum Romanum, cum Calendario. MS. OF THE YEAR 1537, WRITTEN ON VELLUM IN LETTRES BÂTARDES, IN RED AND BLACK, and executed "en la noble maison et abbaye de Saint Amand a la requeste de maistre Franchois du Quelin." 143 leaves (5½ x 4 inches). ORNAMENTED WITH 11 FINE AND BRILLIANT FULL-PAGE MINIATURES of the usual subjects, with the exception of the one at the beginning of the Office of the Dead, which represents a half-naked man kneeling in supplication to a gaily dressed man playing a flute, and two women playing lutes. Each miniature is enclosed in an architectural border in the style of the French renaissance, heightened with gold, and 8 of the pages facing the miniatures have floral and scroll borders; also numerous ornamental initials illuminated in gold and colors. 8vo, red levant morocco in compartments of dark and light brown morocco outlined in gold, ornamented with dots and rosettes; doublure of red morocco, gilt tooled borders of flowers and leaves, gilt edges, by Joly, in a levant morocco slip case. 1537

* The miniatures are above the average in workmanship, and show the Italian influence of the period: probably they are the work of some monk who had passed a period of his life in Italy. The manuscript must have been executed for presentation to a member of the Orléans family as the Orléans arms are painted at the foot of 14 pages.

2469. HORÆ BEATÆ MARLÆ VIRGINIS ad Usam Romanum, cum Calendario. LATIN MANUSCRIPT OF THE BEGINNING OF THE XVIIth CENTURY, ON THIN AND VERY CHOICE VELLUM, written in neat Gothic characters and executed by a Flemish scribe. 183 leaves (3¾ x 2⅝ inches). EMBELLISHED

WITH 10 VERY FINE MINIATURES, and 49 borders, 43 of which are historiated; the 24 of the Calendar representing the occupations of the months, with medallions containing the signs of the Zodiac: the others having representations of scenes from lives of saints, manners of the time, etc. Also ornamented with large floriated initials painted in "camaieu gris," gold and blue on a ground of colors and gold. 16mo, white morocco, the sides in compartments formed by interlacing bands and arabesques painted in various colors and outlined in gold; in the centre of the front cover the device of Charles V with the motto PLVS VLTRA, and on the back cover the imperial eagle; silver clasps, gauffred gilt edges. Sæc. XVI

* Although the binding is modern, the manuscript is said to have been executed by order of Emperor Maximilian I for presentation to his grandson, afterwards Charles V. The miniatures, which are of the school of Memling, are very remarkable for microscopic detail and delicacy of finish; and they are very interesting as they represent the games customs, architecture and costumes of the Netherlands at that time.

2470. HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS ad usum Parisiensem, cum calendario. MS. OF THE 15TH CENTURY, WRITTEN ON VELLUM IN WELL-FORMED GOTHIC CHARACTERS, IN RED AND BLACK, WITH THE CALENDAR IN GOLD, BLUE AND RED; PROBABLY EXECUTED IN THE NORTH-EAST OF FRANCE. 254 leaves (9 x 6 $\frac{5}{8}$  inches). ORNAMENTED WITH 16 LARGE AND 68 SMALLER MINIATURES, these last in the borders, including the 24 in the Calendar, which represent the occupations of the months and the signs of the Zodiac. Each page surrounded by exquisitely painted ivy leaf borders in black and gold, with flowers, fruits, foliage, birds, etc.; the borders surrounding the large miniatures more elaborately decorated and embellished with miniature medallions representing subjects from the Bible, the Life of Christ, and the Virgin; also numerous large and small illuminated ornamental initials. 4to, old dark red velvet, gilt edges, in a cloth case. Sæc. XV

* A REMARKABLY FINE MANUSCRIPT, and a very rich example of French 15th century illumination and decorative art. The miniatures are beautifully finished, and are evidently the work of a good artist. The first three, which occupy the entire pages and are notable for correctness of design and color, represent: 1. The Last Supper, in a Gothic building, over the door of which are painted the royal arms of France; in the lower part St. John in the Island of Patmos, writing the Revelation; 2. Herod receiving the Magi; in the lower part the procession of the Magi and their retinue; 3. The Ascension, below St.

Matthew, writing his Gospel and an Angel holding his ink well; the other miniatures are of the usual occurrence.

The names of the following Saints are written in gold in the Calendar: St. Genevieve, St. Mor, St. Vincent, St. Gregoire, St. George, St. Nicholas, St. Eloy, St. Martin, St. Louis, St. Gille, St. Denis, St. Katherine, etc. In the litany we find St. Yvo, St. Marcellus, St. Germanus, St. Louis, St. Medardus, St. Martial, confessors; St. Genovefa and St. Oportuna, virgins. The prominence of these Saints (and others found in the Calendar) shows that the Office has some connection with, and probably was written, in the North-East of France.

2471. HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS ad usum Parisiensem, cum calendario. LATIN MANUSCRIPT OF THE XVTH CENTURY, ON VELLUM, WRITTEN IN GOTHIC CHARACTERS IN BLACK AND RED, WITH THE CALENDAR IN GOLD, BLUE AND RED, probably executed in the North-East of France. 238 leaves (7 1/16 x 5 1/8 inches). Ornamented with 51 FINE LARGE MINIATURES; each page within exquisite ivy leaf borders of black and gold with flowers in brilliant colors; those on the pages containing miniatures, being more elaborately and more richly ornamented with sprays of flowers, leaves, and scrolls in various colors and gold, and those of the calendar having 24 small miniatures representing the occupations of the months and the signs of the Zodiac. Small 4to, red levant morocco, richly tooled and gilt in compartments in the manners of the Èves, doublure of green morocco tooled and gilt in small oval compartments containing floral ornaments, gilt edges, by Rivière, in a green levant morocco case. Sac. XV

* THIS BEAUTIFUL AND INTERESTING MANUSCRIPT IS BELIEVED to have been executed for Margaret of Anjou, wife of King Henry VI of England, and the lady kneeling before the standing figure of the Virgin (leaf 230 recto) is thought to be her portrait. Although the office is for the use of Paris, certain saints of the Calendar and of the litany point to the North-East of France as its probable place of origin, while the names of S. Columbanus, Edmund and Patrick in the Calendar prove that the manuscript had some connection with England. The calendar has Genovefa, George, Maurus, Yvo, Eligius, Louis, Leu and Gilles, Denis, Martin, Thomas à Becket in gold; Vedastus, Gertrude, Patrick, Vaudrille, Germanus, Romanus, Fiacre, Gereon, Mello, Columbanus, Nicasius in blue; Vulfran, Medard, Fremin, Edmund in red. In the Litany we find Denis, Quintin, martyrs; Ursine, Guillermus, Austregisile, Yvo, Germanus, Sulpitius, Gildardus, confessors; Valeria, Oportuna, Genovefa, Ursina, Avia, Radegunde, virgins.

The miniatures, very likely the work of two artists, are of great delicacy and beauty, and far above the average. Among those of unusual occurrence in books of hours are; the Baptism of Christ, Peter baptising converts, Peter preaching to converts, etc. From the Addington library, and since rebound.

2472 HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS ad usum Ecclesiæ Rothomagensis, cum calendario. MANUSCRIPT OF THE 15TH CENTURY, WRITTEN ON VELLUM IN LETTRES BÂTARDES, IN RED AND BLACK, AND THE CALENDAR IN GOLD, BLUE AND RED; EXECUTED IN THE NORTH-EAST OF FRANCE. 93 leaves ( $7\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$  inches). Each page embellished by lateral borders of flowers, fruits and animals, painted in brilliant colors on a dull gold ground. ORNAMENTED WITH 14 LARGE MINIATURES AND 24 SMALL ONES in the Calendar, the latter representing the occupations of the months and the signs of the Zodiac. Also numerous illuminated initials. Svo, light brown morocco, gilt tooled and mosaic dentelle borders, gilt back; doublure of red levant with richly gilt borders, gilt edges, by Joly, in a morocco slip case. Sæc. XV

* An interesting manuscript, especially on account of the large miniatures, which are nearly all of unusual occurrence. Among them we find: The Angel appearing to Moses on Mount Horab; Moses consecrating Aaron and his sons; the Vision of the Virgin and Child to Augustus Cæsar; Jacob's ladder; the Queen of Sheba presenting gifts to Solomon; King Solomon's Judgment, etc. The miniatures are good in coloring and show some Flemish influence. The arms of a former owner appear fourteen times.

In the calendar the names of the following Saints are in gold: Gervais, Eloy, Martial, Romain. In the litany we find: Martial, Apostle; Firmin, Eutropius, martyrs; Mello, Romanus, Gildard, Medard, Audoenus, Severus, Julianus, Taurinus, confessors.

2473. HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS ad usum Ecclesiæ Rothomagensis, cum calendario. MS. OF THE 15TH CENTURY, WRITTEN ON VELLUM, IN GOTHIC CHARACTER IN RED AND BLACK, WITH THE CALENDAR IN GOLD, BLUE AND RED; probably executed at Rouen or in that neighborhood. 144 leaves ( $8\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$  inches). ORNAMENTED WITH 12 LARGE MINIATURES, within borders composed of ivy leaf, scrolls and flowers, painted in brilliant colors and gold, and 5 other borders of similar designs; also numerous large and small illuminated initials of an ornamental character. 4to, brown levant morocco, the sides elaborately tooled and gilt in an interlaced Grolieresque pattern of compartments, arabesques and pointillé, gilt tooled back, gilt edges, by Rivière, in a morocco slip case. Sæc. XV

* The miniatures are remarkable for their execution and coloring, and show the hand of an artist above the average in ability. The Calendar has in gold the names of St. Martial and St. Roman; and in blue SS. Ausbert, Aubin, Urban, Translation of St. Roman, Fiacre, Lubin, Fremin, and Enoud. In the Litany we find Martial, Apostle; Fiacre, Maurice, Leobin Roman, Audoenus, Vivian, Maectus, Maturin, Lupus, confessors; and Radegunda and Austreberta, virgins.

Small 4to, brown levant morocco, gilt and blind panelled sides, gilt back, gilt edges, by F. Bedford.

Sæc. XV

* A very interesting manuscript. The subjects of the miniatures are the usual ones, with the exception of the 13th (leaf 115r.) representing "LES TROIS VIFS ET LES TROIS MORTS," which is seldom found. Among the names of the Saints written in gold in the Calendar are: St. Gervasius, St. Martial, St. Martin, St. Denis, St. Romanus, etc. In the litany we find: St. Mauritius, martyr; St. Julianus, St. Mello, St. Romanus, St. Ausbertus, St. Taurinus, confessors; and St. Radegund and St. Austreberta, virgins.

2475. HORÆ BEATÆ MARIE VIRGINIS. Heures Nostre Dame a l'usage de Troyes. FRENCH MS. OF THE 15TH CENTURY, WRITTEN ON VELLUM IN GOTHIC CHARACTERS, IN RED AND BLACK, WITH THE CALENDAR IN RED AND BLACK. 237 leaves ( $10\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$  inches). EMBELLISHED WITH 29 FINE LARGE AND 34 SMALL MINIATURES, 24 of the latter being introduced in the borders of the Calendar and representing the occupations of the months and the signs of the Zodiac. Every page surrounded by rich ivy leaf borders in black and gold ornamented with flowers, birds, animals, insects, centaurs, grotesques, etc., finely painted in gold and colors. The borders surrounding the large miniatures are more elaborate than the others, having inner borders of red and blue on a gold ground, and two of them are ornamented with medallions representing scenes from the Life of Christ and the Virgin. 4to, red velvet, painted gilt edges, in a levant morocco slip case. Sæc. XV

* The paintings in this manuscript are remarkable for their architectural details, vigorous drawing and beauty of color. Among the miniatures are found: The Virgin and Child enthroned, at their feet a man and a woman kneeling (possibly the original owners of the manuscript); the Pietà; St. Michel and the Dragon; the Martyrdom of St. Sebastien; the Martyrdom of St. Catherine; and an exquisitely painted representation of the Virgin and Child on the margin of f. 173.

This magnificent manuscript was executed for one of the FAMILY OF HABERT DU BERRY D'ARTOIS, possibly the progenitor of the poets François Pierre, Isaac I and II and Suzanne Habert. The arms of this family, impaling those of Pericard, are emblazoned in the borders of folios 47 and 146. Among the names written in red in the Calendar are St. Remi, St. Savinian (his translation in black, March 2), and St. Lupus. In the Litanies we find: St. Savinian martyr; St. Lupus, confessor; St. Mastidia, virgin.

A more particular account of this splendid volume will be found in the "Bulletin des Bibliophiles" for March, 1860, p. 1070.

2476. HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS, Belgice, cum Calendario. SUPERB FLEMISH MS. ON VELLUM OF THE END OF THE 15TH CENTURY. 171 leaves ( $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{7}{8}$  inches). RICHLY DECORATED with exquisite borders displaying birds (including peacocks), fruits, flowers, insects, etc., and also comprising sacred subjects, among which the TORTURES OF HELL and Adoration of Magi are very curious; 14 BEAUTIFUL LARGE MINIATURES, 81 large illuminated initials (of which 28 are historiated) and numerous capitals in gold and colors, THE WORK OF A GOOD FLEMISH ARTIST. 4to, old red velvet, silver gilt clasps, with initials "C" and "H." gilt edges. Sæc. XV

*The beautiful miniatures and very artistic borders are painted in the best Flemish style, of the school of the Van Eycks. Among them the Annunciation, Madonna and Child, Murder of the Innocents, the Last Supper, the Crucifixion, the Resurrection, the Last Judgment, the Mass of St. Gregory, are truly fine specimens of illuminating.

This superb manuscript appears to have been executed for Cornelis Crosinek, Lieutenant-Forester of Holland, whose jurisdiction extended over nearly the whole of the ancient Rhine-land. His arms and those of his second wife, Hildegarde Van Alkemade, are found emblazoned twice in the borders of f. 109 verso, and their initials are on the clasps. From the fact that the Calendar does not mention St. Joseph, whose festival was instituted at Rome in 1481 (but not generally observed until 1490), and that on fol. 120 verso mention is made of the death of Pope Sixtus IV (1484), it is probable that the manuscript was executed after 1484 and before 1490.

2477. HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS, Belgice, cum calendario. FLEMISH MS. OF THE 15TH CENTURY, WRITTEN IN GOTHIC LETTERS, BLACK, BLUE AND RED ON VELLUM. 166 leaves ( $7\frac{1}{8} \times 5$  inches). Several pages ornamented with elaborate borders and semi-borders in fine pen work of foliage, heads, etc., in blue, red, purple, and green, and with 2 diagrams in red and blue, containing directions for the finding of the golden numbers and the Sunday letters, the first bearing the year 1481 and the second 1485, the probable dates in which the MS. was executed. Small 4to, blue velvet. Sæc. XV

Paris, 1649

* The manuscript is embellished by 4 very fine and 5 small miniatures ascribed to Petitot, 5 floral head-pieces and 9 large illuminated initials. The subjects of the large miniatures are: 1. The Nativity; 2. King David praying; 3. "Ecce Homo;" 4. The Preaching of John the Baptist; the small ones represent the Crucifixion, the burying of Christ, the Resurrection, etc. This manuscript, which is a fine example of Jarry's art was executed for the Due of Berry, grandson of Louis XVI, whose monogram is painted in gold at the end. 2496. MISSALE ad usum Ecclesiæ Turonensis. MS. OF THE BEGINNING OF THE 16TH CENTURY, WRITTEN ON VELLUM IN ELEGANT LETTRES BÂTARDES, RED AND BLACK, double columns, and probably executed in Touraine. 169 leaves (13½ x 9 inches). ORNAMENTED WITH 2 FINE FULL-PAGE MINIATURES, 3 LARGE ONES, occupying half the size of the page, and 19 small ones. All the large miniatures surrounded by rich and elaborate borders, in the style of the Italian Renaissance, in gold camaïeu and blue, on a blue and gold ground; also an illuminated border representing the instruments of the passion (leaf 99 recto) and numerous floral and ornamental initials on gold ground. Folio, old crimson velvet, gilt edges, in a morocco case. Sæc. XVI

* A SUPERB MISSAL. THE MINIATURES ARE REMARKABLE for correctness of design, execution and coloring. They may be numbered among the best productions of the School of Touraine, and possibly are the work of one of Jean Fouquet's pupils, although influenced by Flemish art. The 2 full-page miniatures represent the preparations for the Crucifixion. Christ is sitting on a rock, bound, and crowned with thorns, a workman nearby is completing the cross, the two thieves, bound, stand at the foot of the other two crosses; in the foreground are soldiers and the Virgin Mary supported by the holy women and St. John; II. The Crucifixion: at the foot of the three crosses are the holy women, one of whom supports on her knees the fainting Virgin, and the soldiers casting lots for the vestment of Jesus; in the background there are more soldiers, on foot and on horseback, and in the distance appear the hills of Jerusalem. The large miniatures represent: 1. the Nativity; 2. the Resurrection; 3. the Descent of the Holy Ghost. Among the small miniatures may be mentioned: St. Gatian, first bishop of Tours, preaching; the Martyrdom of St. Stephen; St. Maurice and his warriors; St. Martin of Tours dividing his cloak with the beggar, etc. Some of the miniatures have been slightly restored.

The missal has the following special services: Mass of St. Gatian, first bishop of Tours, of St. Martin, bishop of Tours, and of St. Guillelmus, bishop of Bourges; in the Litany we find Gatian and Lidorius, confessors; Monegunda, virgin. All these point to Tours as the place of origin of the MS. The arms of the Lalemant family of Berry (de gueules a un chevron d'or accompagné de trois roses d'argent) are emblazoned in the first two borders, and in six of the small miniatures. Probably this magnificent missal was executed for a member of that family. For a longer and more detailed description see the catalogue of Firmin-Didot (year 1879, no. 18), to whom the manuscript belonged.

Venetiis: in ædibus Aldi et Andræ Soceri, 1518-19

* A TALL COPY. Folio 64, Volume II, has not been mutilated as in most copies.

2722. POOLE (JOSHUA). The English Parnassus: or, a Help to English Poesie. Frontispiece. 12mo, old half calf. (Two pages ink-marked.) London, 1677

FOURTEEN ISSUES OF "THE DUNCIAD," 1728-1735.

2723. [POPE (ALEXANDER).] The Dunciad. An Heroic Poem. In three Books. [Woodcut of a vase of flowers.] 8vo, brown morocco, blind tooled, gilt top, uncut (several slight repairs).

Dublin, printed; London, reprinted for A. Dodd, 1728

* An uncut copy of the VERY RARE FIRST ISSUE OF THE FIRST EDITION, measuring 8¼ by 5 inches. "B" of Thoms's list, similar to the one in the British Museum.

The distinguishing marks of this first issue are the misprint, "Book and the man I sing" instead of "Books," page 1, line 1, and the blank page on the verso of H<sup>2</sup> instead of an advertisement. Lieut.-Col. F. Grant's copy, once owned by Jonathan Richardson, the painter. Notes in ink on title-page and text.

2724. [POPE (ALEXANDER).] (I.) The Dunciad. An Heroic Poem. In three Books [Woodcut of a vase of flowers.] Dublin, printed; London, reprinted for A. Dodd, 1728. (II.) A Compleat Key to the Dunciad. * SECOND ISSUE OF THE FIRST EDITION. "C" of Thoms's list. VERY RARE.

The distinguishing mark of this issue is on page 1, line 1 (ending with "who"), where "Book and the man I sing" is corrected to "Books." The text was probably printed from the same forms of type as the first issue.

2725. [POPE (ALEXANDER).] The Dunciad. An Heroic Poem. In three Books. THE SECOND EDITION. 12mo, maroon morocco, blind tooled, gilt top, uncut.

Dublin, printed; London, reprinted for A. Dodd, 1728

* "D" of Thoms's list. Presumably the third issue of the First Edition, although the title-page says "second edition." The Address from the Publisher to the Reader appears to have been printed from the same forms as the two preceding issues, because of many similarities of dropped letters and defective types.

Lieut.-Col. Francis Grant's copy, with his annotations.

London: Printed for A. Dob (sic), 1729

* THE FIRST OCTAVO VARIORUM EDITION. "G" of Thoms's list. Probably recomposed from the quarto edition, with the same fount of type. Some of the errors of the quarto edition corrected and vignette of Ass re-engraved.

2730. [POPE (ALEXANDER).] The Dunciad. With Notes, variorum, and the Prolegomena of Scriblerus. Frontispiece and plate. 8vo, red straight-grain morocco, gilt edges, by The Club Bindery. London, 1729

It also contains the cancelled leaf P<sup>3</sup>, with the preceding edition through Gg4, excepting that there is no engraving of the Owl between H1 and H2, and pages 222-232 are numbered in Arabic instead of Roman numerals. After page 232 are three leaves of Errata, A1-A3, pages 1-6, and a fourth leaf, A4, containing eight additional lines of Errata.

2732. [POPE (ALEXANDER).] The Dunciad. With Notes, variorum, and the Prolegomena of Scriblerus. Frontispieces of the Ass, variety 1; and the Owl, variety 3. Small 8vo, red straight-grain morocco, gilt edges, by The Club Bindery. London: Lawton Gilliver, 1729

There sunk Thalia, nerve-less, faint, and dead,
Had not her Sister Satire held her head: "

London: Printed for J. Welford [1732]

* It is difficult to determine the priority of the various editions of the four Epistles composing this Essay. Whereas there were once supposed to be only four editions, it is now generally conceded that there are ten or eleven, two of the First Epistle with "Part I." on the title-page, two of the First with "Epistle I." on the title-page, three of the Second, two of the Third, and one of the Fourth.

No recorded investigations are sufficiently advanced to be of service, and in the manner of the numbering of the lines or neglect to number, one theory is as plausible as another. It is granted, however, that the editions of the First Epistle with "Part I." on the title-page were earlier printed than those bearing "Epistle I."

* FIRST EDITION. PRINTED ON VELLUM. ONLY 4 COPIES KNOWN, AND THE PRESENTATION COPY TO DOGE MARCO BARBARIGO. This is the oldest official account of Venice, and a masterpiece of printing. executed with the Jenson types by Andrea d' Asola, the father-in-law of Aldus. It is very interesting also for its references to the introduction of the art of printing into Italy, which, according to Sabellicus, happened about 1462 (see Book xxviii, signature I<sup>3</sup>). According to Hain a perfect copy should have 240 leaves. He mentions two leaves of errata, printed in Gothic characters; but the book may be considered complete without them, as they were printed after it had been put in circulation and the above copy was probably presented to the Doge before they were issued.

Mentz [Printer of Darmstadt Prognostication, ca. 1475-1480].

* SAID TO BE THE ONLY COPY KNOWN: THAT IN THE MENTZ LIBRARY HAVING BEEN LOST. This volume, together with the "Tractatus de celebratione Missarum" and the "Darmstadt Prognostication," has been ascribed by Fischer in his "Essai sur les Monuments Typograph. de Jean Gutenberg," to the press of Gutenberg and Johann Neumeister; and as having been printed about 1460-63. Dr. Hessels, however, on examining the "Prognostication" in the Darmstadt library (which has a printed date reading "lx," i. e. 1460), discovered that some numerals had been erased; and moreover found in the text a mention of Sixtus IV (Pope from 9 August, 1471, to 12 August, 1484). For these and other reasons he places the date about 1480. Hain, 14519.

Printed by J. Roberts. 1600

* Two editions were printed in 1600, one by Roberts, the other by "J.R. for Thomas Heyes," and authorities are yet disputing as to which should have priority. In favor of the theory that this issue is the first there is the fact that Roberts obtained a license for printing it on July 22, 1598, nearly two years before a license was granted to Heyes. It is possible, however, that the date is fictitious as is the case in several other of Roberts' publications.

A TALL COPY, measuring 7 $\frac{1}{8}$  x 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches.

DEDICATION COPY OF SMITH'S HISTORY OF VIRGINIA, 1624.
 (See No. 3093.)

Libraries, Cambridge, and the copy in the Advocates' Library, Edinburgh, bound in calf, lacks the preliminary half-title.

The arrangement of preliminary leaves in this volume is so unusual as to give the impression on a first examination that c1 is missing. But as the copy in the Advocates' Library, Edinburgh, is similar to this, the supposition is that no leaves are lacking.

The simplest explanation of the discrepancy is to suppose a printer's error in the pagination of preliminary matter.

Laid in are 5 letters, mainly from the libraries mentioned, relating to this edition. Name on title.

London: Printed by J. W. for G. C., 1591

* THE EARLIEST KNOWN EDITION AND PROBABLY THE ONLY KNOWN COPY, not mentioned by Hazlitt, who gives 1594 as the earliest edition. With the unnumbered leaf "Faultes escaped in the Printing." All Southwell's books are exceedingly rare, many having been destroyed when the author was executed for his Catholicism. The great poetical collections of Heber and Corser possessed later editions only of a few of Southwell's writings.

3113. SOUTHWELL (ROBERT). Saint Peters Complaint, Newly augmented With other Poems. Woodcut title. London; H. L. for William Leake: [1596?] (II) Mœoniae. Or, Certaine excellent Poems. London, V. Sims

London, Adam Islip for Edward White. 1601. 6 vols. in 1., original vellum wrappers (edges slightly damaged), with ties, in a morocco case.

* Tall copies. From the George Lewis Way collection, with his bookplate. The Dictionary of National Biography says: "The only perfect copy known was in the library of Mr. G. L. Way, but is not now traceable. A fragment of another copy is in the British Museum." "Saint Peters Complaint," the first mentioned, is undated, and has been placed as early as 1596 and as late as 1609. It was first printed in 1595. The copy of "Mœoniae" is the first edition; "The Triumphs over Death," the second. "A Fovre-Fovld Meditation" is the first edition and is said to be the only copy known. The copy in the British Museum is a fragment of only six leaves, and was acquired, with other rare volumes, from the Isham collection in 1894. The signer of the dedication, W. H., is supposed to have been William Hall, a book-seller's purveyor. "Saint Peters Teares," 1602, is the second edition, a reissue of "Saint Peters Ten Teares" issued in 1597; "Marie Magdalens Lamentations," generally ascribed to Markham, is the first edition, of which few copies are known. Many of the leaves are uncut; there are one or two small worm-holes, and a small blank corner of one leaf is missing, but has all the blank leaves.

London: Imprinted for William Ponsonbie, 1591

* FIRST EDITION. Heber had two copies, one bound in vellum, uncut, the other in morocco, by C. Lewis. The above is possibly the latter, and in that case also from the Roxburgh and Sir M. M. Sykes libraries.

The reference in the "Tears of the Muses" to "Our pleasant Willy," considered by early writers to have referred to Shakespeare, is now generally admitted to be a reference to Tarleton the actor. Shakespeare refers to this poem ("The Tears of the Muses") in "Midsummer Night's Dream."

3117. SPENSER (EDMUND). The Faerie Qveene. Disposed into twelue bookes, Fashioning XII. Morall vertues. Printer's device on tittle, London; Printed for VVilliam Ponsonbie, 1596. * H. 87. FIRST EDITION of the complete account of the Four Voyages of Vespuccius. ONLY FOUR OTHER COPIES ARE KNOWN, ALL OF WHICH ARE IN EUROPEAN PUBLIC LIBRARIES. The Court-Kalbfleisch copy bought by Quaritch for Mr. Kalbfleisch and later sold to Mr. Hoe, and the one from which the London bookseller made the facsimile for his Monograph on the Voyages of Columbus.

This extraordinarily rare book is with little reason assigned to the year 1516, by HARRISSE, from the fact that Heber's copy was bound with the Corsali letter of 1516, in a binding of the early part of the XVth century. HARRISSE, however, was not aware that there was another copy, described by D'AVEZAC, in a contemporary binding with a pamphlet by St. Basel printed in January 1506 by the printer of the "Lettera di Vespucci," thus taking the date back to the beginning of the year 1506.

Another fact, apparently overlooked, is that Waldseemüller in his account of the voyages of Vespuccius printed about April, 1507, either copied from this edition, or from the manuscript on which it was founded, and gave the incorrect date of the third voyage as May 10, 1501, as in this edition. In all other editions (about the same time or later), the date is given as May 14.

HARRISSE also states that the types of the Letter of Vespuccius and the pamphlet by Corsalis are identical, which is only partially true, as the printer of the letter—Stephano di Carlo, came into possession of the types of the original printer. A few letters have without doubt been recast, the capital "Q" for instance, while others possibly had new letters cut on the same body.

It was this statement by HARRISSE that probably induced Mr. Hoe to add the Letter of Corsalis to the Vespuccius, as Mr. Quaritch's original bill* for the latter only is laid in, showing that Mr. Hoe purchased the Corsalis at some other time.

THERE CAN BE LITTLE DOUBT THAT "LETTERA DI AMERIGO VESPUCCI" WAS PRINTED NOT LATER THAN JANUARY, 1506, AND IT MAY HAVE BEEN PRINTED SHORTLY AFTER THE DATE OF THE LAST LETTER IN THE VOLUME, SEPTEMBER 4, 1504.

The editions of the letters of Vespuccius are extremely rare. The Florence edition of the Four Voyages is by far the rarest of the known editions. There is a copy in the British Museum in the Grenville Library. This library was presented in 1847 and Sir Thomas Grenville bought books at the Heber sale. The Heber and Grenville copies may be the same, otherwise all trace of the Heber copy has disappeared. A second copy is that described by VARNHAGEN, which seems to agree with the Poggiali copy, and which cannot be traced since 1863. This copy is said also to have once been a part of the Palatina Library in Florence, where was to be found another copy bound separately and not with the tract of St. Basil found in both the Varnhagen and Poggiali copies.

A third (or fourth) is now in the Capponi Library, Florence. The only other known copy is the above, the history of which is as follows: Somewhere in the "seventies" this copy was owned by the bookseller Tross of Paris, and passed into the collection of Docteur J. Court, a famous French collector. At that time it had the Corsali Letter bound with it, but the volume was broken up by Dr. Court and each of the two bound separately. The sale of the Court books took place in 1884, and both these volumes were purchased by Bernard Quaritch as they appear in his catalogue for June, 1885. They were bought by the late Charles Kalbfleisch of New York, and finally passed into the possession of Robert Hoe. A careful argument narrows down the number of copies. The Heber and the Tross-Kalbfleisch-Hoe copy had bound with them the Corsali Letter; were these two the same? The Varnhagen and Poggiali copies in like manner were bound up with the tract of Saint Basil—were these also one and the same copy? And will that copy ever come to light? SO FAR THE HOE COPY IS THE ONLY ONE THAT HAS EVER BEEN IN THE POSSESSION OF AN AMERICAN COLLECTOR, AND THE ONLY ONE THAT CAN EVER HOPE TO BE KEPT IN AMERICA, THE OTHERS BEING IN NATIONAL LIBRARIES.
